— NOTICE —

E M L BLOOMING DESIGNATIONS

To make our catalog more helpful all varieties are keyed just ahead of bloom size as to the relative time they start blooming. E—early, M—medium (mid-season), L—late. By combining E M and M L we have 5 different groups. For those with a short growing season, late varieties should be avoided or started early in cold frames. With a long growing season some of the late varieties are the most satisfactory. In areas normally frost-free from early May to late October, plant the late varieties early while the early varieties can be planted late and bring them into bloom nearer the same time.

SPIDER MUMS

This new Type Chrysanthemum is becoming very popular and responds wonderfully well to disbudding. Although some varieties are only semi-hardy, they can be carried over winter with a little protection and if you are in sections where early frosts are prevalent a temporary protection made of vinyl plastic or polyethylene with a couple of electric light bulbs inside will give the necessary protection for the early damaging frosts for Spiders and other late blooming varieties.

HARDY GARDEN CHRYSANTHEMUMS

These modern hardy Mums are selected for their ability to produce quantities of blooms in general garden conditions. Increasing interest in garden mums is due to recent development of new varieties that bloom safely ahead of frost, while a number of varieties stand the first frost that usually gets the Dahlias. This prolongs the blooming season in your garden by several weeks.

FOUR WAYS TO BUY POTASH-FED DAHLIAS

GREEN PLANTS

Green plants are cuttings taken from clumps grown in greenhouses; rooted in sand benches in propagating houses, potted and grown under greenhouse conditions until well established. When they reach you they are ready for planting, but need some protection.

Their care after you receive them is fully described in our Cultural Instructions. Green plants will produce flowers equal to roots or pot roots when well grown for exhibition, but will not produce as large clumps for the following season. When properly grown from healthy stock, however, many varieties produce nice clumps.

Dahlia green plants in our specially designed shipping box have been successfully sent all over the United States.

It is difficult to ship plants or rooted cuttings into the Deep South during a hot spell late in the season, so order early. State inspection on arrival slows up delivery on the West Coast but with proper timing, deliveries are satisfactory.

ROOTED CUTTINGS

Dahlia rooted cuttings are wrapped singly or two together in live sphagnum moss on a special machine built for this work. In shipment the roots are fed moisture in live sphagnum. The leaves are in a ventilated air space. Rooted Dahlia cuttings are 1/3 less in price than plants. However, we do not recommend them unless you have had experience and are equipped to handle dahlia cuttings.

Further directions on handling rooted cuttings will be found in our Cultural Instructions.

ROOTS

Dahlia roots are divisions of field-grown clumps of dahlias. Each root must contain at least one "eye" from which the plant grows. Sturdy plants and fine exhibition flowers grow from roots, and strong clumps harvested for the following season. As the planted root acts as a food storehouse for the growing plant, the growth of the plant is thus stabilized under adverse growing-conditions.

POT ROOTS

Pot Roots should not be judged adversely because of their size. Many experienced growers prefer them.

Pot roots will produce bushes and flowers equal to roots and in many varieties even better clumps on digging.

Pot roots are small clumps produced by plants grown in 3-inch pots in the open and transferred to greenhouses under controlled conditions, and allowed to ripen naturally.

DAHLIADEL RECOMMENDATIONS For Your Garden, Exhibition and Arrangements

Classified to Color and Type

If you were at Dahliadel and asked me to check a list of the most satisfactory varieties of dahlias for you to grow, you would probably say you wanted varieties that are not temperamental. Then you would ask for those easy to grow that produce plenty of flowers good for cutting, house decoration, or for exhibition—oh yes, you would want some of the big ones too that will be the envy of the neighborhood. Well, here they are.

With this table of recommended varieties you can pick out the types and colors you like most. Where there is more than one, the top variety is the newer and likewise the higher priced one. Practically all of the varieties have won prizes at Shows or Trial Grounds, and will do it again if properly grown and exhibited.

CHRYSANTHEMUM CULTURE

SOIL PREPARATION. You will find many helpful suggestions on Soil Preparation and Fertilizing in our Dahlia Culture which hold good for Mums with the exception that preparation of hills is not recommended. Mums will stand more manure and more water than dahlias will. Mums should never be allowed to suffer for the need of water.

Plant in well prepared ordinary garden soil 8 to 10 inches apart in rows 15 inches apart for mass planting. Rows can be 3 to 4 feet apart for cultivating.

When plants are established in the garden and have developed 2 or 3 pairs of mature leaves the center of the main growth should be pinched out. Should you want exhibition blooms in limited numbers, then limit the number of branches to 3 or 4. For Garden Varieties, Pompons, etc., 6 or 8 stems are not too many.

When Mums are planted early and topped out as recommended we find it advantageous to again top out the center growth and main growth branches about July 15th. This will give you a more uniform growth and blooms will open at a uniform time. Spray Mums the same as recommended for Dahlias in our Cultural Instructions.

Unless garden is fumigated for nematodes, it is best to rotate Mum planting from one section of the garden to the other as much as possible.
